FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

150th Website on Kentico CMS Delivered by a Single Company - Get Started

Nashua, New Hampshire, USA, December 09, 2011 – Kentico Software (<http://www.kentico.com>), the Web content management system vendor, today announced that Get Started, Kentico Gold Certified partner from Australia, delivered their anniversary 150th website using Kentico CMS.

“Reaching 150 Kentico websites is a significant milestone. We are thrilled that www.onejustworld.org.au was the 150th website. Effectively, we have produced a website developed in Kentico every week for 3 years. Kentico has allowed us to increase the quality of the websites we produce and the service we offer. We enjoy the relationship with Kentico and we love building sites in the Kentico CMS,” said Marty Drill, CEO of Get Started Pty Ltd.

Since 2008, Get Started's 150 references have spanned across a wide range of industry sectors – from tourism, law, real estate and healthcare to not-for-profit or governmental web projects. Besides corporate or institutional websites, Get Started uses Kentico CMS also as a platform for their e-commerce and community websites.

One of Get Started's websites - Green & Gold Army (<http://www.ggarmy.com>), the virtual meeting place for Australia's Football Fan Network, was recently awarded as the Website of the Year in the Culture & Events category at the 2011 Australian Web Awards.

“150 successful websites across different industries, recognition by industry awards and years of sustained business prove better than anything else that Kentico CMS is the right choice for any web project and Get Started is the right company to deliver it,” said Petr Palas, the CEO and founder of Kentico Software.

“Since choosing Kentico as our preferred Content Management System, our client satisfaction has increased, development time has reduced and our revenue has doubled. We firmly believe that we made the right choice in selecting it,” said Marty Drill, CEO of Get Started Pty Ltd.

“We are thrilled about Kentico 6 and the new EMS. We believe Kentico now more effectively rivals expensive content management systems. Kentico supports our business and our client's strategies. We are looking forward to hitting the 200 websites milestone, which we hope to be in the first half of next year!”, added Marty Drill.

Some of the 150 references include:

- Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, <http://acci.asn.au>
- Melbourne Aquarium, <http://www.melbourneaquarium.com.au>
- Curtis Stone, <http://www.curtisstone.com>
- The Law Institute of Victoria, <http://www.liv.asn.au>
- Bass Coast Shire Council, <http://www.basscoast.vic.gov.au>
- Green and Gold Army, <http://www.ggarmy.com>
- Shrine of Remembrance, <http://www.shrine.org.au>
- Snooze, <http://www.snooze.com.au>
- Victoria Police Blue Ribbon Foundation, <http://www.remember.org.au>
- Birth, <http://www.birth.com.au>

The anniversary 150th website was One Just World (<http://www.onejustworld.com.au>), which is a national series of free, after-work speakers' forums focusing on key international development issues facing Australia, the Asia-Pacific and beyond.
